

User Guidie

You can click the button in the red box to change the recommendation mode between description input or tag input

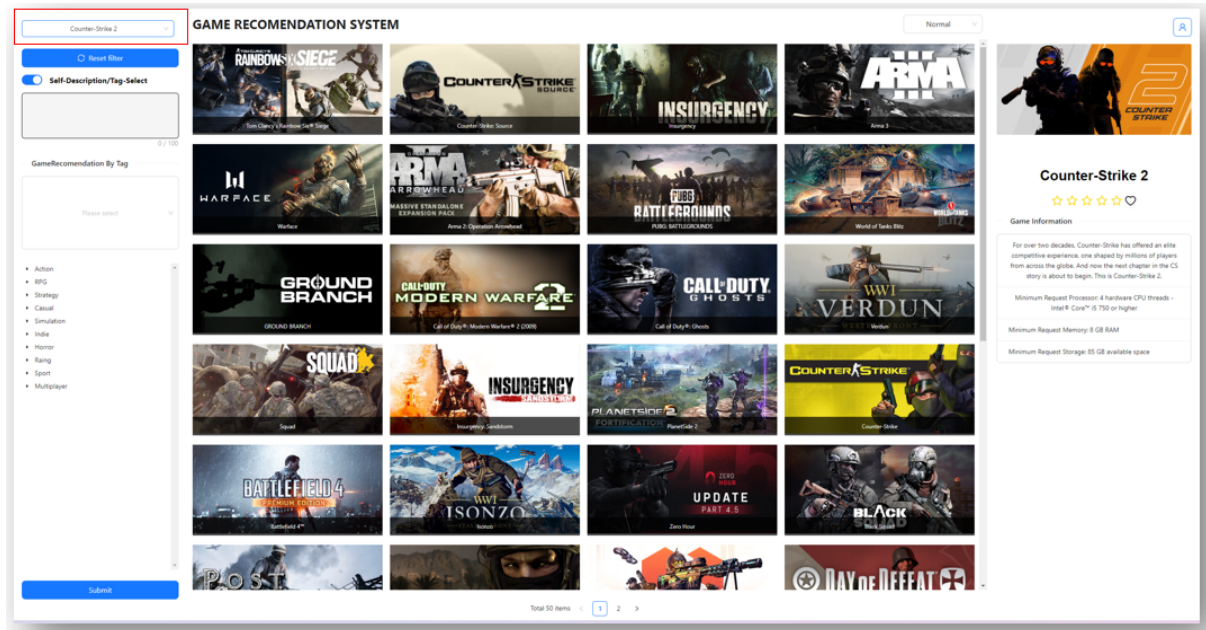

At the top of the page, you can switch the sorting of displayed content, either by game rating, game popularity, or by original sorting.

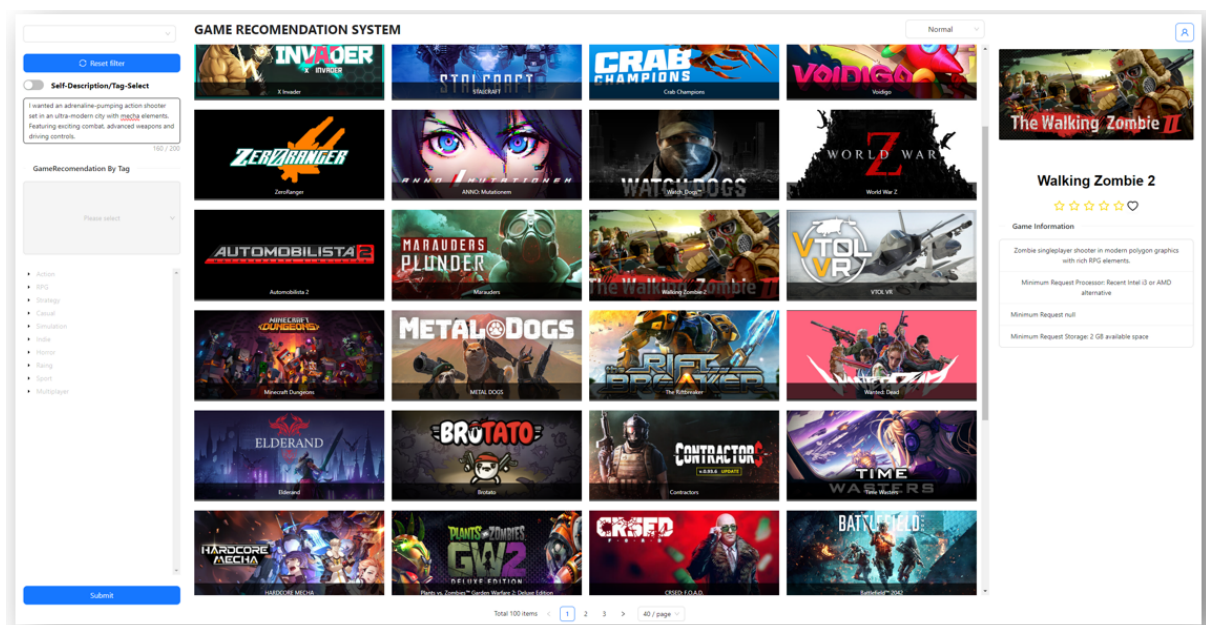

For the first user function, you can choose the game which is stored in our game database, and the system will give you 50 games that have the same game content. In the web page, the recommended games will display in the middle, and in the right side of the page, there will show the detailed information of the game that you choose.

For the second user function, you can enter the relevant content of the game you want in the text input box and the system will return 100 games that are relevant with your description. In the following example, when we input text “I wanted an adrenaline-pumping action shooter set in an ultra-modern city with mecha elements. Featuring exciting combat, advanced weapons and driving controls.” The return result is as follow.

In the third user function, You can choose the game tag you like. You can find it in the tree as follow, or you can search the tag directly.
